While a player creates a game of the game, other players join to fight each other. All types of units and buildings can be controlled manually, which gives players a lot of freedom. Key elements: Sorrow emulates 18 mighty medieval imperies (or civilizations) (China, Japan, Persia, Teutons, Mongols, Goths, Mayas, etc.). Each empire has 8 general unit types and 1 unique unit type. Common units are the same in all imperies. In addition, each empire has its own unique unit. In Mongolia there are riders, in Iran - Spain - Konquistadoren etc. 1. Water of Ararat: Involved for arrows, but stops cavalry. 3. archers: susceptible to cavalry, but control over spears. Light cavalry: for fast movement, high mobility and special units Enemies 5. Aries: Used only in aggressive buildings. Tour: It is mainly used for attack. After parking 5 pawns into the tower of the mouth, the tower can pull 6 arrows at a time. Tower: basically destroys buildings - every empire has advantages and disadvantages in the game. Players can go into the game to see a detailed promotion of every empire. Here is a short entrance: 1. Huns: No need to build a house with too much time. The cavalry consumes 20 %less resources and the cavalry can be upgraded to a village guard. 2. Teutonia: Warrior is very strong. The story is like a Spartan warrior, but they move slowly. ... Important points: Heart of the game: After starting the game, try the following: 1. Development of the economy: products used as temporary housing for farmers) 2. 2. Enemy harassment: First, players can create several units to bother and benefit enemy farmers. First, the enemies must work with the Allies to overcome the enemy units under the number and create a legion that protects the weak HP units and high damage. In addition, players should pay special attention to the restrictions of the unit and teamwork: players should learn the values of each unit. Here are some examples: 1. Spear protects Cavalry2. The cavalry holds Arcade3. Archer holds Pikeman4. The Rolling Camels holds the cavalry5. Corio - Transport limitation All other distant units have game modes: there are two types of welding: food and gold. As the game progresses, TC can gradually upgrade from the dark age to feudal age, the age of the castle and the age of the empire (the aim of the upgrade is to unlock more technologies). Other buildings and units will be open after age increase. The general game is more complicated and requires serious work of players. For simplicity, the game is divided into 4 modes (the most common mode in Emperor mode): 1. Normal mode: Sources are relatively low. Development must be preferred. First, players can send a small number of units to bother their enemies. Playing this regime is difficult, but the most interesting. Deathmath Mode: Players enter the Age of the Empire at the start of each game with more resources. Players can directly start fierce battles. Key Features: This game has been released in China for 4 years. After dozens of updates, it's now version 1.8.n. Main features implemented: 1. Player vs CPU2. Network game3. Audience 4. Review 5.
